Rowdy Roadrunner says, "Buy the books before the blower!"

Blown Flathead — The purpose of this book is to provide a "how-to-recipe" for building a high performance street flathead Ford or Mercury engine with readily available parts. High performance is relative, but the guidelines presented in this book will enable the flathead powered car owners to run with their overhead valve powered neighbors and surprise more than a few without breaking either the engine or the wallet. The book includes such topics as compression ratio versus breathing, flow test results, performance tuning, blower instructions and MORE!
